Your obedient servant, HENRY ANSON BARBER

Captain Twenty eighth Infantry (formerly of Ninth Cavairy) Headquarters Pacific Division, San Francisco, Cal., May 11, 1905; Dear Mr. President. As some discussion has arisen in the p prints regarding the battle of San Juan, Cuba, July 1, 1898, and your personal movements during that day have been the subject of comment, a may not be amiss in me to state some facts coming under my persona may not be amiss in me to state some facts coming under my personal observation as commanding general of the cavairy division of which your regiment formed a part. It will, pechaps, be advisable to show first how I came to be in command, in order that my statement may have due weight as an authoritative statement of facts. I was placed in command of the cavairy division on the afternoon of June 39 by General Shafter, the assignment was made owing to the severe lliness of General Wheeler. the was the permanent commander of said division. Brigadier General coung who commanded the Second cavalry brigade of which your regi-tion the First volunteer cavalry—formed a part, was also very it, and found it necessary to relieve him from command and place Colone Wood of the Rough Riders in command of the brigade, this change placed rou in command of your regiment.

The division moved from its camp on the evening of June 30, and bivouscked at and about El Poso. I saw you per onally in the vicinity of El Poso, about 8 a. m. July 1. I saw you again on the road leading from El Poso to the San Juan river; you were at the head of your regiment, which was leading the Second brigade, and immediately behind the rear regiment of the First brigade. My orders were to turn to the right at regiment of the First brigade. My orders were to turn to the right at San Juan river and take up a line along that stream and try and connect with General Lawton, who was ito engage the enemy at El Caney. On reaching the river we came under the fire of the Spanish forces posted on San Juan ridge and Kettle Hill. The First brigade was faced to the front line as soon as it had cleared the road, and the Second brigade was orleved to pass in rear of the first and face to the front when clear of the First brigade. This movement was very difficult, owing to the heavy unsion.

To a great many people a newspaper. Their memorates are not discriminating as among Kettle Kill, our position was untenable, and it became not became in the forces on San Juan ridge and at heway persons. These respectively are not discriminating as among the sample of the sample of the heavy undergrowth and the regiments became more or less tangled up, but eventually the formation was accomplished, and the division stood in an irregular line along the San Juan river, the Second brigade on the right. We were subjected to a heavy fire from the forces on San Juan ridge and at heway papers. These respectively are the first brigade. This movement was very difficult, owing to the heavy undergrowth and the regiments became more or less tangled up, but eventually the formation was accomplished, and the division stood in an irregular line along the San Juan river, the Second brigade on the right. They often blame the paper it shall be made up of volunteers, and in consequence it is feared ifermany would not be able to fill an army of greater proportions.

The democrast just elected to compress in a Pennsylvania district to succeed a republican is out in a statement in which he says the league of nations had nothing whalever may have been the extent the same of t the enems or fall back. Kettle littl was immediately in front of the cav-alry, and it was determined to assault that hill. The First brigade was brigade on the right of the First.

This was the position occupied by the cavairy division until the final surrender of the Spanish forces on July 17 1898.

In conclusion allow me to say, that I saw you, personally, at about K a no at hi Poso; later on the could to San Juan river, later, on the summit if Kettly Hill, immediately after its capture by the cavairy division.

I saw you move forward with your command to assault San Juan ridge, and I saw you on San Juan ridge, where we visited your line together, and you explained to not the disposition of your command. I am, sir, with much respect.

Little Benny's Notebook

MAKE THE PENNIES BIGGER

When James Buchanan was President and tall beaver hats were in vogue; when gentlemen wore broad cravats and ladies wore hoop skirts the pennies they tossed to children were as big as quarters. But the cart-wheel coppers your grandfather got for keeping his lace collar clean were not as big in buying power as the pennies of today.

A penny then might buy a pastry, or ten of them to take to the fair, but your great-aunt and great-uncle couldn't have gone to a movie at any price.

Your great-grand'ther may have drivon the fastest horse in the country and paid a tidy sum for it. But the price of a stable of throughbreds would not have bought him a fliver.

Sixty years ago the ladies could go shopping for dry goods and buy silks that would make you green with envy, linens that were linens and broadcloths that beggar description. But what their favorite store did not have they usually got along without.

You can pick up your daily newspaper and in fifteen minutes you can know what the different shops are offering in fabrics, patterns, varities and qualities that greatgrandmother never dreamed could be gathered together under any conditions.

Times have changed, and so have merchandise and business methods. One of the influences that has helped to bring about so much change, that has helped to multiply opportunities and increase the spending size of our pennies in advertising.

Every merchant, every manufacturer knows that advertising materially reduces selling costs by increasing the demand for and the distribution of the products of hundreds of thousands of mills. Indeed many of the things we count today as necessities or simple luxuries could not be made and sold at their reasonable prices except that advertising has created a broad market for them, making millions of sales at little prices and little profits.

And so you owe very much to advertising. You owe much to the people of yesterday who have read and been influenced by past advertising and so have made possible the economies and varities and wide distribution of merchandise that you

You owe present advertising a thorough reading. A greater familiarity with advertising, with advertisers and advertised merchandise makes continually for the increasing size of your pennies.
